The training and education that ADASC has provided has helped our organization to not only meet the ADA requirements, but also to help those we may have been excluded to learn about our good works!”

The Latest

OVERVIEW

The project consisted of document, PDF, and website remediation. The website’s collateral has been archived publicly online for 19 years. During the project’s lifecycle, an internal project of complex published reports was occurring that relied on design methods which produce inaccessible documents. With the solution training ADASC provided, management will be able to remediate and produce accessible documents for the upcoming years.

SOLUTION

The Sunshine Law of Florida permits public entities to publish documents up to five years. Our team provided document, PDF, and website remediation, as well as training for select staff members to reduce future remediation and to maintain compliance under the ADA. Our experts performed on-site education and training for best practices to create and publish digital assets and collateral, without compromising brand and creativity.
